

friends of the pinnacle merry christmas

2011 was a year of outstanding achievements for fotpin. The massive saffron slash in January, the first tree planting event since 1993 and the popular spring walks program to mention just a few. Huge credit must also go to the regular weeding teams who have worked so hard to knock back the major weed infestations and give the native plants a chance to re-establish. We're already seeing positive outcomes all over the reserve. Don has worked wonders making his grassland restoration project a reality.

In future years, the results will make a contribution that extends well beyond the boundaries of the Pinnacle. 2012 promises to be even busier and better, with major plantings foreshadowed within the reserve and in the Bottom Pinnacle and North Kama. 2012 may also be the year that fotpin opens the Shed in North Kama as its new focal point for social and educational activities in the reserve. In the meantime, we'll be continuing our battle to keep the rabbits and the weeds at bay.

The committee wishes all fotpins a very merry festive season and all the best for the new year.
